Brand New Way to Remove Hairy Growths

(Actually Removes Roots and All.)

The vexed question of how to completely banish superfluous hair has been solved at last! By means of the new phelactine process, the hairs, roots and all, come out before your very eyes—easily, harmlessly, "quick as a wink." It is so different from the electrolytic, electrical and shaving methods, you simply must try it to fully appreciate its remarkable advantages.

Phelactine is perfectly odorless, non-irritating, nonpoisonous—a child could use it without the least injury. It leaves the skin so soft, smooth and hairless, no one could tell you ever had a moustache or other hairy growth. If you will procure a stick of phelactine from your druggist and follow the simple instructions, you will certainly be astonished and delighted with the result. adv.

Weddings

Gentry-Barr.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gentry, 45 North Belvedere boulevard, on Monday evening when Miss Frances Ruth Gentry became the bride of Mr. Frank Woodworth Barr, the Rev. W. L. Carson, of the Second Presbyterian church officiating.

Palms, ferns and cut flowers were effectively used for the decorations in the home, the place of ceremony being marked by tall white wicker baskets of pink and white blossoms with a background of ferns and palms.

The bride was crowned in a blue tulle suit with hat to match, with which she wore a corsage bouquet of bride roses, orchids and valley lilies. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Evelyn Adams, dressed in an imported model of blue tulle with cascades of French flowers and carrying an arm bouquet of pink Killarney roses, was the maid of honor.

Mr. James P. Gentry, Jr., brother of the bride, was the best man.

A program of exquisite wedding music was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Meyer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held and a dainty ice course served on a beautifully appointed table, the centerpiece being a mound of ferns and anthurus, with an attractive wedding cake containing the wedding symbols.

After a trip South, Mr. and Mrs. Barr will be at home at 45 North Belvedere boulevard.
